David,

The five e-mails containing loose PDF files actually contained 26 pdf documents. I received all of those PDFs but I did not get the PDFs in the zip two zip files. The zip files were automatically removed by EPA's computer protection programs. I have no idea why the zip files were automatically removed. Any ideas on an alternative?

Okay. That's all the spreadsheets I sent, so we're good on Excel files.

Just to be clear, I sent two zip files:

- one attached to the email with subject line "Application records 1" and this zip file was 3 MB consisted of a folder filled with 37 PDF files which are all scanned application records
- another zip file with the email subject line "Application records 2." This zip file was 5 MB and consisted of a folder filled with 43 PDF files of scanned application records.

Do you have all of that?

Next, I sent a series of emails with subject lines "scanned notifications" with numbers 1 through 5. Those emails contained loose PDF files (not contained in zip folders). If you add up all the PDFs from those 5 emails, you should have a total of 43 PDFs.

Did you get all 5 of those emails?

I do but there are tons and the size is much bigger than the PDF application records. I have a ticket in to our IT folks to help me figure out how to transfer them to you.

Here are the rest of 2011 application records. Next I'll send the notifications. The application record file names correlate to notification numbers.
